

THE VIKING'S CAKE

A Tale of a Mystery and Its Solution

By JOHN R. CARLING : : : : Copyright by Little, Brown & Co.

Synopsis of preceding chapters.

A young English woman, with her young son, took lodgings in a little village in Brittany in which he had been born. A few miles away, near a prison, lived a man who believed himself to be a Viking. An ancient ring, which tradition said had been shown to her son, then she told him the story of his father, and made him promise when he became a man to find the real murderer and clear his father's name. The same night the ring was stolen by a masked robber and shortly after the murder of the woman, Eric Marville, having escaped from prison, was recaptured in his wife's room, and in the fight accidentally shot and killed her. He was taken back to prison where he was rescued and carried off by friends. This is the prologue to the main story, which begins with the return of Marville to the house of his father, the Earl of Ormsby, who had not known where his son had been. At his father's death he assumed the title, married and had a son. To his first wife's son he gave no heed for some unexplained reason, but later heard that he was dead. The second son returned from his travels a compelling evidence of his belief that his father's name was innocent. In company with his wife he made a night visit to a mound in the neighborhood, dug into it and found a tomb containing a crumpled skeleton. The skull was not that of the ancient Viking, but of a modern man. Later this was found to be modern and, therefore, the skull was not that of the ancient Viking. Idris made love to Lorelei and learned that she had been married to Lord Walden, who was really his brother, though neither knew it. Lorelei's husband had been killed by a steel instrument, showing that it was not, as supposed, the skull of the ancient Viking, but of a modern man. Lorelei's husband had been killed by a steel instrument, showing that it was not, as supposed, the skull of the ancient Viking, but of a modern man. ### CHAPTER XVI—Continued from Yesterday.

That evening at sunset Lorelei sat alone on the grand terrace overlooking the undulating landscape that surrounded Ravenhall. Behind her rose the ivied mansion with its fine halls and treasures of art. The glowing light of the sunset along the terrace, filled the air with their sweetness. Marble fountains splashed aloft in every spray. Below in front of her green lawns and woodlands stretched away to the margins of a shimmering sea. In the dusky golden glow of sunset.

Each day should have been one of the proudest of her life. She had received recognition from the earl, and was now an acknowledged lady of the house and the distinction of the county-side. While living at the Cedars she had been slighted by some of the nobles, but now she had been cruelly traduced by others; how great, then, would be the mortification of her enemies should she be seen in the past and do her homage; for, to be on visiting terms at Ravenhall was the ambition of the elite of the county-side.

Her father was a murderer; her father-in-law was a murderer; her husband was in his own language, an "appropriator," or, in other words, a thief; and she herself was but a woman who had been traduced for profits to deprive him of his prospective wealth and title. Even now the manifest evidence to her that would be a triumph for her, through her instrumentalities, Idris, her husband, should succeed to the coronet of the Ravens.

Whether she spoke out, or whether she remained silent, should be a triumph for her, through her instrumentalities, Idris, her husband, should succeed to the coronet of the Ravens.

Whether she spoke out, or whether she remained silent, should be a triumph for her, through her instrumentalities, Idris, her husband, should succeed to the coronet of the Ravens.

W. C. T. U. TO CELEBRATE FLOWER MISSION DAY

Flowers and Text Cards to Be Distributed to the "Shut-Ins" and Needy.

WORK IN MARION COUNTY

On June 3 all over the world, wherever the Women's Christian Temperance Union exists, flowers and text-cards tied with white ribbon, fruit, shrubbery and necessities, will be given to the "shut-ins" and needy, in observance of the birthday of Jenny Cassady, who founded the Flower Mission Society of Louisville, Ky., a quarter of a century ago.

The annual of the Flower Mission Department of Marion county W. C. T. U. is to give to every person in that institution and factory in Marion county, whether inmate, employee or officer, at least one flower tied with a text-card. To accomplish this many thousands of bouquets and text-cards and about twenty or twenty-five bolts of white baby ribbon will be needed. Florists and merchants are asked to aid in this work by donations.

Through the courtesy of the secretary of the W. C. T. U. of the Y. M. C. U. in Indianapolis, headquarters in this large room from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. on June 9 for the reception and distribution of gifts.

Young people's societies are invited to cooperate in this work. Societies out of the county are invited to send flowers and necessities to the committee. This can be done without any expense, as express companies will give a free rate for any parcel marked "Flower Mission Work," and addressed to Marion county W. C. T. U. Y. M. C. U. building in Indianapolis.

The committee requests that every member of the organization observe June 9 for the good of the community.

On June 9 "Flower Mission day" will be observed at the Meyer Mission, corner West and McCarty streets, by request. On June 9 at the Hospital for the Insane the patients will be taken to the grove, where a musical program will be given. The Shortridge Mandolin Club will give several numbers.

On the afternoon of June 9 the Loyol Temperance Legion will go to the Women's Reformatory. Miss Ethel Evans, Flower Mission superintendent of Palmer L. T. U., will have charge of the program. ## MADE TWICE PRESIDENT

Unusual Honors for Shortridge Student—Heads Both Echo and Oratorical Associations.

LAST MEETINGS OF YEAR

The Oratorical and Echo associations of Shortridge High School held their final meetings for the year yesterday and elected officers for next year.

The contest for officers in both organizations was spirited, and the elections were held in separate rooms, but when the members compared notes it was found that both associations had elected Orestes H. Caldwell as president. Caldwell has been an active worker in the interests of both organizations, but his election to the presidency of both came as a surprise. He is one of the charter members of the Echo Association, and through his paper, the Monday Echo, has been enthusiastic in support of the oratorical interests of the school. The two organizations are the most prominent in the school, and it is no small honor to be elected to preside over either of them.

The Oratorical Association elected Samuel Taylor, the young colored orator who represented the school in the state contest, vice president. Caldwell was unanimously chosen secretary and Sumner Clancy was again elected state delegate. A report of the nature of Caldwell's work during the year at an outlay of $200 the plant could be removed to this city, set up, and still have a margin to operate on until the completion of the new plant.
